Dear Reader,

We would like to take a moment to thank all of our wonderful clients and staff who have been supporting Flavorcan and each other, throughout this unprecedented time. We will continue to do everything in our power to meet your needs. Flavorcan will keep you informed about how we are working to protect the health and safety of our facility, employees, customers and families.

The continued spread of COVID-19 (coronavirus) in Canada and around the world, has understandably raised concerns for you and your families. As you likely know, the public health risk associated with the novel coronavirus (COVID-19) remains low for the general population in Canada, but the government has indicated that this could change rapidly, and there's a lot we can do collectively to "flatten the curve" (reduce the speed of transmission).

We continue to monitor the situation closely and are following the latest guidance from local, provincial and federal health authorities, including the Public Health Agency of Canada. This is to ensure that our practices are aligned with the latest recommendations. Currently we are maintaining our operations as usual, while also preparing for any emergency if things do change.

At Flavorcan, we will continue to keep our health and safety practices to the highest standards, while we work to balance the needs and necessities of our customers and staff. Flavorcan assures you, that we've taken numerous precautions to keep our factory clean, hygienic and our customers and colleagues safe. Various policies have been implemented, such as deeper cleanings and alcohol-based sanitizers throughout the entire facility, limiting access to external visitors, and increasing safety stock. Flavorcan is committed to protect the health and safety of our team, while minimizing the risk of disruption to our business. The well-being and the safety of our colleagues and families is our top priority.

Thank you again for your ongoing support, and please reach out anytime with any questions.

Best Regards,

Brad Gorassi

President
